"The County Chairman"
Showing at the Grand

It is by the Original Company with Maclyn Arbuckle and Willis P. Sweatnam.

The Robinson Grand has for its feature today, "The County Chairman," starring Maclyn Arbuckle and the original company with Willis P. Sweatnam. "The County Chairman" earned for its producer, Henry W. Savage, in its eight years of continued success in the neighborhood of half a million dollars, and if it had not been for this opportunity to sell at a very high figure to the Famous Players for a screen production it would undoubtedly have been on the road at the present time. Famous Players Company has had any number of interesting stories in its program, but it can safely be said that none of them have proved more interesting nor have possessed more comedy and heart interest than this one.

Tomorrow possibly one of the most interesting of the paramount output will be shown—Dustin Farnum in "The Virginian." It is a story that will appeal to every lover of the drama as it possesses all the elements of sure fire success. Heart interest, pathos and comedy in this story will appeal to every West Virginian. It is the first time that the actor goes here have had an opportunity of seeing Dustin Farnum on the screen and they will have the opportunity of forming their opinion as to which is the better actor, Dustin or William.

The management of the Odeon wishes to inform its patrons that through a mixup in the booking office it was unable to secure the splendid musical comedy that had been booked for the last three days of the week. However, arrangements have been made with the company to play here at a later date as it is one of the best on the road.

One of the best opera troupes on the road, however, will play the Odeon today and tomorrow, the Bella Italia troupe. This company played the Hippodrome theater at Parkersburg the first three days of this week and Manager Hehle, of that theater, states that it is positively a splendid company. Lovers of good music and fine singing cannot afford to miss this show.

For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week Manager Murray will offer "The Tango Beauties," a musical comedy company of eleven persons. The pictures for today include the News Pictorial showing late events of the world including Billy Sunday calling on the mayor of New York, and President Wilson taking part in the opening baseball game in Washington. Also a two-part Lubin feature, "The Delayed Reformation," featuring Lily Leslie and Jack Standing.

Beverly Bayne and Albert Roscoe are at the top of the Bijou program today. They present "The Conspiracy at the Chateau," a two part Kalem drama in which a villain is made a good man through the sweetness of a good woman. No. 14 of "The Exploits of Elaine" is on today. It reveals the identity of the "clutching hand." The new Elaine serial will start May

A story of great human interest is told in the two reel drama, "A Mother's Heart at Stake," just completed at the western Lubin Studio at Los Angeles. Among the well known Ida Darling. The play's complications, Morley, Bob Gray, George Ruth, George Berrell, Melvin Mayo and Eleanor Blevins.

"Moloch," a war play by Beulah M. Dix was produced this week in Cleveland, with a cast including Holbrook Blinn, Jean Murdoch, Lillian Albertson, Haldee Wright, Rite Bennett, Charles Harbury and Paul Gordon.

"A Full House," by Fred Jackson, produced this week in New York, won the general commendation of the critics for its fun-making qualities. The actors in the cast included May Vokes, Edgar Norton, Hubert Cortwell, who made a hit as a fat burglar; Elizabeth Newlon, Ralph Morgan and Ida Darling. The play's complications turned on a stolen necklace and the mix-up of traveling bags belonging respectively to a burglar and a lawyer.

BOWLING NEWS

Uniontown Here Tonight.

The Uniontown five-man duck pin team composed of some of the best bowlers in western Pennsylvania will arrive here today and will play the Gore alley five-man duck pin team a contest at the Gore alley this evening. Manager Dresbach, of the Gore alleys, has one of the strongest teams to face the Uniontown bowlers that ever represented this city in the bowling game. His line up will be composed of five of the following bowlers: Clark Ingram, Lee Johnson, Bert Gaim; Joseph Longmore, Louis Deem and himself.

To Bowl in Tournament.
Following the five-man event all the Uniontown bowlers will roll in the Merry Widow tournament which is being held at the Gore alleys this week, and some exceptionally large scores are looked for.

I. M. P. Team Wins Game.
The I. M. P. five-man duck pin team defeated a Salem team in a three game contest rolled on the I. M. P. alleys Thursday by a total of 146 pins. The Salem team rolled well until the third game, when it fell, allowing the local team to win this contest by 136 pins. The total scores made by each team are as follows:
Salem..... 567 590 484—1641
Clarksburg... 577 590 620—1787

Tournament Results.
Clark Ingram, of the I. M. P. Amusement Company, took the lead in the singles at the Gore alleys Thursday evening when he rolled 439 in three games. This score is a good one and should entitle Ingram to a part in the prize money.
In the doubles rolled Thursday afternoon and night exceptionally large scores were rolled and Johnson and Longmore's 842 is still high.
